Atara Miller is a member of Milbank's Global Executive Committee and a New York-based partner in the firm's Litigation & Arbitration Group.

Primary Focus & Experience

Ms. Miller's practice focuses on federal and state court litigation of complex commercial matters and bankruptcy-related litigation. She has extensive experience trying cases and managing disputes out of court and in mediation. Ms. Miller regularly represents financial institutions, corporations, and individuals in civil litigation, securities, breach of fiduciary duty, and fraud-based actions. She has tried jury and non-jury cases in federal courts across the country and has argued appeals in federal circuit and state courts.

Ms. Miller has litigated through trial multiple fraudulent transfer claims and other claims arising out of bankruptcy proceedings. Most recently, she represented Ambac Assurance Corp. in federal litigation related to the financial crisis in Puerto Rico and the unprecedented restructuring proceedings of the Commonwealth and its related entities and defended lenders against fraud claims arising out of the collapse of cryptocurrency platform Celsius Network.

Ms. Miller also litigates appropriate rates for music performing rights, on behalf of Broadcast Music, Inc. She obtained a trial victory for BMI against Pandora Media, Inc. The decision was identified by Law360 as one of the biggest copyright rulings of the year and changed the market for performing rights in the digital era. Ms. Miller also successfully challenged the Department of Justice's interpretation of BMI's antitrust Consent Decree and was identified as Litigator of the Week by the American Lawyer for the victory. More recently, Ms. Miller obtained a trial victory for BMI against live concert promoters, including Live Nation and AEG, that more than doubled the rate for music at live concerts. She is currently representing BMI in a rate setting case against the over 10,000 local commercial broadcast radio stations.
