Tim Peterson is a partner in the London office of Milbank LLP and a member of the firm's Corporate Finance and Securities Group.

Primary Focus & Experience

Tim's practice is centered on representing corporations, financial institutions and institutional investors in financing, capital markets and corporate transactions. He has particular expertise in international debt and equity securities offerings, leveraged finance, including mezzanine financings, leveraged acquisitions and debt restructurings.

He represents numerous issuers, borrowers and leading financial institutions and institutional investors in high-yield debt financings and leveraged loans and other finance transactions. Tim has worked on numerous Yankee bond offerings, debt private placements and Eurobond issues and as well as both Rule 144A and US Securities and Exchange Commission registered IPOs and other equity offerings.

Tim has also:

- structured one of the first amend and extend leveraged finance transactions;
- worked on creating one of the templates for senior secured bond transactions in Europe;
- worked on the largest sterling denominated high yield debt transaction; and
- structured many of the leading mezzanine finance transactions in Europe.

He has notable experience in mergers and acquisitions and has worked extensively with private equity funds and their portfolio companies in acquisitions and dispositions in Europe and the United States. Tim also worked on numerous debt restructurings.
